School on Fire

On the 5th of November 2010 which is also known as Bonfire night there was a horrendous fire took place in a school named Featherstone Primary and Nursery school, it was awful. The school in Western road was ravaged by flames as the fire had started at 8:47 and had finished 00:47, a massive 4 hours.

The fire fighters had spent hours tackling the inferno. The council are estimating for the infants department could take 2-3 weeks to repair but for the ks2 department may take a whopping 4-6 months. The ks2 children may have to move school temporally until the school is repaired. Investigations are still ongoing on how the fire had began and how long will it take to repair.

Featherstone also has a history of being on fire as you properly know the old Featherstone Primary school was on fire in the medical room and Featherstone high school.
